ONE-WAY STREET

Court Street will become a one-way street beginning on Monday, Feb. 14. The street will be one-way from beach west to Second Street, according to Chief of Police Robert Goodsell. Since Main Street was made one way from Main to Beach Boulevard, the traffic on Court Street has been extra heavy. Chief Goodsell has said that this will be a trial period for the next thirty days and if the change proves to be unsatisfactory at the end of that time Court Street will again be opened to two-way traffic.

HONOR ROLL

Patricia Brameyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Brameyer of Waveland, has been named to the Dean's Honor Roll for this past semester at Centenary College in Shreveport.

MRS. ARNETTE GILES of Pearllington teaches retarded children in the special school in Hancock County. For her years of volunteer assistance to underprivileged and needy children, 40 of whom she has reared in her own home, Mrs. Giles this evening will be named winner of the 1971 National Volunteer Award, sponsored by the National Center for Voluntary Action.

Mrs. Giles Named Volunteer Winner

Mrs. Arnette Giles will be named winner of the National Volunteer Award this evening in Washington, D.C.

The National Volunteer Awards, sponsored by the National Center for Voluntary Action, will be presented at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts to Mrs. Giles of Pearllington, Miss., and to SERVE, a group of more than 800 State Islanders ranging in age from 60 to 86. Six awards finalists will also be honored.

Final selection of the winners was made by a panel of five judges: Charles Evers, mayor, Fayette, Mississippi; Walter Hickey, former Secretary of the Interior and former governor of Alaska; H.I. Romnes, chairman of the board, AT&T Company; Alvin Toffler, author, "Future Shock"; and Mrs. Jacqueline G. Wesler, president, Hunter College of the City of New York. This year's awards program drew nominations from 31 states and Puerto Rico, from which 120 nominees were awarded special citations.

ECHO NEWS EDITOR MARILEEN MAHER WILL COVER TONIGHT'S BANQUET HONORING MRS. GILES. HER REPORT FROM WASHINGTON WILL APPEAR IN NEXT WEEK'S ECHO.

Eliminatory screening was done by a faculty panel from C.W. Post College of Long Island University.

Mrs. Giles, in over 50 years of marriage to the Rev. Charles Giles, has reared 40 abandoned, retarded and needy children who otherwise would have no family - in addition to five of her own. Mrs. Giles' success with retarded children has brought public attention to the special needs and potential of the retarded; through her efforts, classes were opened for retarded children - who previously were considered uneducable.

SERVE began in 1966 with a cadre of 23 older volunteers recruited by the Community Service Society of New York. Today, over 800 members - from a wide range of backgrounds and many with health problems - assist the ill, the mentally retarded; the aged and homebound, and children with learning obstacles in 30 institutions, schools and social welfare agencies. SERVE has become the model for similar programs throughout New York State and for the federal government's recently launched Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP).

The finalists are: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Decker, Youngstown, Ohio, for aid to needy elderly; Mr. John T. Halston, Christiansburg, Va., for organizing "unemployables" to build low-cost housing for the poor; Mrs. Jean Jacobs, San Francisco, Calif., for catalyzing large-scale programs to help neglected and delinquent children; Athens Mental Health Center (student) Volunteer Program, Athens, Ohio, for aid to the mentally ill; Jericho Society of Brown Univ. and Univ. of R.I. students, for prisoner assistance and prison reform efforts; and the Mexican-American Service Agency, Pueblo, Colo., for its grassroots efforts to achieve economic reforms for Mexican Americans.

The National Volunteer Awards, formerly known as the Lane Bryant Volunteer Awards, were established in 1948 to bring attention to "unsung volunteer heroes." The program has been administered by the National Center for Voluntary Action (NCVA) in Washington, D.C. since December 1970.

NCVA was organized in February 1970 to generate new responses in America's pressing needs through greater utilization, coordination and recognition of volunteers. Henry Ford II is chairman, and Edwin D. Etherington president.

The National Center is a private, non-profit organization and the hub of a growing network of local Voluntary Action Centers, now covering 51 communities and developing in 70 others. NCVA also runs the nation's most comprehensive clearinghouse of data on volunteer activities, as well as volunteer campaigns to meet critical national needs.

Highway Official Indifferent To Committee's I-10 Proposals

by Adoree Shortle
Echo staff writer

Brownlee, state highway engineer for the Southern District.

A state highway official apparently does not share the fears of Gulf Coast merchants that the completion of I-10 through Mississippi will seal doom to the Gulf Coast.

Members of the Tourism Action Committee along with Chamber of Commerce representatives from Waveland to Long Beach met Friday in Bay St. Louis with James R.

Consensus from two previous meetings of concerned merchants was to take the problem, along with proposed solutions, to the state level. Through the Chamber of Commerce, officials they hoped to enlist the aid and support of related state departments to maintain a flow of tourist traffic on Highway 90.

Friday's meeting produced little in the way of encouragement for the group. Brownlee told the gathering that the Mississippi legislature would have to designate Highway 90 a scenic route before signs to that effect could be posted on I-10.

present time, Brownlee added, the only signs slated for erection on I-10 are those simply stating "Gulf Coast".

Regarding the group's suggestion that they erect their own signs advertising the Gulf Coast, Brownlee said he would present the merchants' requests to the state highway commission and suggested that the group approach the Gulf Regional Planning Commission for assistance.

Undaunted by Brownlee's lack of response, the committee decided to bring the problem to a higher level. A Saturday afternoon conference with State Senator Martin Smith and State Representative Earl E. Ladner, Jr. proved to be considerably more productive. The committee's proposals, as submitted, appear on page 12A.

Smith and Ladner were both receptive to the merchants' proposals and said they felt the aims of the group were not only justifiable but their objectives feasible.

Sen. Smith said he felt in-person meetings were the most effective way of approaching a problem such as this, "when we can sit down and get all the details of the problem and what you want done."

He further stated that although he would bring the proposals before the Senate, additional support of Harrison County senators would greatly strengthen his chances for success in Senate acceptance.

Representative Ladner pledged his full support and promised that he would attempt to get other representatives backing to pass necessary legislation to designate Highway 90 an I-10 alternate route.

Committee chairman Tommy Kidd pointed out that Hancock and Harrison County merchants are not acting through selfish motives in trying to preserve the Gulf Coast tourist industry. It is to the state's advantage, he said, to maintain a high level of coast tax revenue. Of the approximately $24,000 collected in 1971 sales taxes from Bay St. Louis and Waveland alone, 80 percent goes into state coffers for redistribution throughout the state. The figure collected from all Gulf Coast communities is considerably higher.

Ladner and Smith assured the gathering that they would report developments in Jackson as soon as possible.

DEAN'S LIST

A Waveland student is among the 362 students who have been named to the fall semester 1971-72 honor roll at Mississippi State College for Women.

Janet Alline McPhail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McPhail of 200 Bienville, Waveland, was named to the Dean's List.

Shoreline Park Residents Bring Complaints To Board

Monday was Shoreline Park day for the county board of supervisors, as three different times during the meeting, disgruntled residents brought complaints of conditions in the subdivision to supervisors.

The first attack came from residents of Rayon View St. who said that flooding in the street from Pinehurst to Central, and Fourth to Eighth streets created an intolerable situation, and that after heavy rains four families on the street "are stranded and can't get out of their homes."

They asked that dirt fill or shells be laid to raise the street level and make the roads passable. One resident said that the roads were so bad that the school bus wouldn't come into the subdivision, located off Highway 503, so school children had to walk barefoot or be driven to the highway to catch the bus.

A short time later, another group approached the board with the same complaint, this contingent armed with pictures, one of which showed a home with 17 inches of water standing in the front yard. An inadequate drain system and badly graded streetbeds were attributed as being the seat of the problem.

A ticklish situation exists with Shoreline Park as according to board president Dolph Kellar, the subdivision was accepted by a former board even though the road and drain system was substandard.

Kellar recalled that when R. G. Hubbard, Jr. was a supervisor for that beat, he kept a close surveillance over maintenance of the roads and drains. Since 1968 the roads and drains have been allowed to deteriorate to the point where the subdivision is almost uninhabitable.

At the end of the tenure of the last board Gerald Gex, attorney for the developer, made three appeals to the board of supervisors for county acceptance of the subdivision. Although Kellar held out against accepting the subdivision (which would place responsibility for maintenance on the county), he was outvoted four to one. Kellar said at the time he didn't want the subdivision accepted until the roads and drains were properly upgraded by the developers.

Mrs. Gerard Braselman, a Shoreline Park property owner, had a copy of an affidavit signed by R. G. Hubbard, Jr. in which he states, "From 1959 until January 1, 1968, I kept constant supervision on the roads, bridges and drainage system in Shoreline Park, and same were accepted by me for County maintenance." According to the affidavit, G. E. Glindmeyer and E. M. Brignac are developers.

Mrs. Braselman was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Arnett, Mrs. Oscar Brew and Mr. Hervey Babineau, all property owners in Shoreline Park.

Another property owner, who was not identified, asked that the bridge on Central Ave. coming from Highway 503 be repaired as, he stated, holes and broken sections of the bridge make it a serious hazard to pedestrian and vehicular traffic.

Still another property owner asked the board to have speed signs erected on Central Ave. Groups of school children using the street are in constant danger from speeding cars on that road, he said.

The board passed a motion setting a 30 mile speed limit for Central Ave. and designating that speed signs be posted every few blocks on the street.

Kellar and beat one supervisor Jerry Ladner assured the protesting property owners that the board would do everything possible to alleviate the situation in the subdivision, starting with a board inspection of the area. Ladner pointed out to the gathering that nothing could be done until the weather cleared and the ground dried as heavy equipment would bog down under the present conditions.

"We don't want you to think that we're not sympathetic to your problem, because we definitely are," he said, "but I'm sure that most of you understand that it is impossible to use heavy equipment where the ground is flooded and muddy." In the last month, Ladner added, there were only six days when it didn't rain.

Beat five supervisor James Travica said he had a foreman inspecting the subdivision that morning to determine how much work would be required to raise the road beds and clear the drainage system.

Mrs. Arnett said she and her husband owned four lots in Shoreline Park and were trying to sell them "and get out."

According to a county official the topography of Shoreline Park is such that some sections are below sea level, making it almost impossible to ever have a satisfactory drainage system.

MRS. VIRGINIA GEX

Mrs. Gex Named To School Board

Mrs. Virginia Gex has been appointed to serve as a trustee on the Bay St. Louis School Board. The appointment was made Monday by the city commission council after Mrs. Gex was nominated by commissioner Andre Arceneaux.

Mrs. Gex, 26, received a bachelor's degree in secondary education from the University of Mississippi and a master's degree in library science, also from Ole Miss.

While in college, she was employed as a student assistant to the Dean of Women and was one of two students chosen to work as a library intern at Ohio State University during the summer of 1968. Locally, she was employed as librarian at Christ Episcopal Day School and has taught at St. Clare School in Waveland.

A member of the Bay-Waveland Junior Auxiliary, Mrs. Gex has served as chairman of the New Orleans Philharmonic Performance which will be held in March and co-chairman of the 1971 Gulf Coast Arts Festival Coffee House. She was chairman of the Hancock County National Library Week and was the hostess for the 1970 Heart Fund Tea.

Mrs. Gex will replace Howard Adams whose term expires this month. She is married to local attorney Joseph Gex and they have one child.

Crowds Enjoy Nereids

An estimated 5,000 spectators lined Coleman Ave. in Waveland Sunday for the sixth annual Krewe of Nereids Carnival parade.

A record number of floats and marching units participated in this year's parade which many felt was the most spectacular yet. Reviewing stands erected in front of City Hall were decorated with flags and bunting in traditional Carnival colors of gold, green and royal purple.

A festive atmosphere prevailed even before the parade began as the stands began to fill with local dignitaries and their wives. As King of the Nereids Ball, Haskell Doyle had the seat of honor. Although Dolph Kellar, president of the county board of supervisors was ill and could not attend, the remaining four board members were there with their wives. Others in the reviewing stand included Waveland Mayor and Mrs. Garfield Ladner, Bay St. Louis Mayor and Mrs. Warren Carver, all Waveland aldermen and their wives, Rev. Charles Johnson of Christ Episcopal Church, Br. Pierre St. Pierre of St. Stanislaus School and of course, the three judges.

Wayne Mack, WDSU-TV sports director was Grand Marshal, led a parade of 63 entrants in obviously high good humor. Wayne left his official car as it passed before the reviewing stands and after greeting those in the stands, mingled in the crowd of parade watchers.

A colorful grand stand designed float in shades of pink and blue fronted with two large mermals holding a banner spelling out the theme "Three Ring Circus" led the parade. The float carried officers of the Krewe gowned in flowing chiffon in rainbow colors of pink, blue, turquoise, yellow and green.

Queen Doris VI smilingly waved a jeweled scepter, as she rode the Queen's float covered in shades of yellow, orange and hot pink. Train bearers to the Queen were Miles, Kerri Lynn Breland, Anne Schott, Melissa Maggio and Ann Vogt.

When the Queen's float stopped before the stands for the traditional toast, Mayor

Ladner ascended a ladder to present the reigning lady with a gift and with great dignity and gallantry, each toasted the other and the crowd. Empty champagne glasses were dashed to the ground, the spectators applauded in approval and the parade continued.

Only the sky was somber Sunday, as the seven Krewe floats decorated in brilliant, happy circus hues vied with marching bands and drill teams to create a kaleidoscope of color. The "Big Top" float was followed by The Circus Vendors, The Dancing Bear, The Dancing Pink Elephants, The Dancing Gypsies, The Wild West Show, and the final float, The Side Show.

As though by prior arrangement, the rain which had been threatening all afternoon, waited until the end of the parade to fall. Even though a light sprinkle fell on judges as they presented trophies to the various winning participants, it failed to dampen the spirits of the crowds on the streets or in the stands.

Supervisors Authorize Repairs To County Health Building

Wayne Alliston, county Health Officer, asked supervisors at a meeting Monday for permission to seek funding for repairs to the County Health Department building, situated on Necaise St. The building, Alliston said, is in a serious state of disrepair. He said estimated cost of necessary work would run between $12,000 and $15,000. Supervisors concurred with his request.

Minutes of the board of supervisors' meetings for January were read and accepted by the board. An item of the January 31 meeting included the receipt and acceptance of the waiver of a 30-day notification of termination from Burke and Assoc., as county engineer.

Michael Ladner appeared before the board and asked if a decision had been reached to appoint a service officer for the county, to take care of veterans' affairs. Board president Dolph Kellar explained that the board was still waiting to hear from the five Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion posts in the county, each of whom was to submit the name of a candidate for the position.

Wallace Haas, senior vice-commander of the Kila VFW post, heatedly accused supervisors of "playing politics" in not appointing a man for the position immediately. Haas' refusal to listen to Kellar's explanation of the board's reasons for the aforementioned arrangement led to Ladner's withdrawing his application for the job.

In other business, the board requested that board attorney Ruble Griffin draft a resolution supporting acceptance of a bill now before the state legislature to provide forgiveness of all emergency loans made following hurricane Camille.

Payment of an overdue claim against the county was requested by Hugh Hill, southern district director for the International Paper Co. Hill stated that by contractual arrangement with the county, his company had delivered 20,000 yards of fill at 10 cents a yard, for the Ansley Road repair project in 1968. Hill said although his company had made periodic requests for payment, none has been received.

When asked for a total figure on the bill, Hill said he couldn't give one as the paper company never received load tickets from the county. He further stated that when he had approached former board attorney Joseph Benvenuti regarding payment, Benvenuti said the job contractor would have to be approached for restitution.

Kellar then stated that under county law, the county is responsible for payment of such services, not the contractor. Hill was told by the board that when he could submit a total figure due to be placed on the claims docket, payment would be made.

In an unrelated action, a motion was passed unanimously to name Dolph Kellar as Hancock County representative on the board of the state's Areawide Project for Assistance to the Aged.

A Port and Harbor resolution was submitted rescinding an original request to requisition a $100,000 interim loan from the Hancock Bank and the First Mississippi National Bank, and submitting a second resolution raising the loan figure to $125,000. The interim loan money is in connection with EDA-financed expansion projects at the Port and Harbor.

The board ratified the resolution in a single action, as board attorney Griffin said the present resolution automatically rescinded the board's first resolution.

Kellar raised the question of inclusion of the county unit system on the public referendum of the Gulf Regional District. Griffin said this would be impossible as there are no state statutes in existence authorizing public vote on county unit systems.

In other Port and Harbor business, a claim was submitted for payment of $450 handling charges for the recently acquired locomotive for the P & H Shortline Railroad. The locomotive has been in a General Electric yard in Cambridge, Ga. for repairs, and is now ready for delivery to the county. Board one supervisor Ladner asked if the $450 would be included in the repair bill which was formerly set by the board not to exceed $20,000. Kellar stated that a repair bill had not been received so he could not answer the question.

The board also authorized the Port and Harbor Commission to make application to the Economic Development Administration for funding for further airport improvements.

A recapitulation of figures on county road repair from the State Aid Road Division showed that to date 198,569 miles of roads had been repaired in Hancock County, for a total cost of $2,610,766.19. Of that figure, $1,626,250.07 was state aid money, $730,053.20 was federal money, and the balance of $139,056.91 was paid by the county. The figures covered 24 different road repair projects.

Kellar reminded the board that it would be necessary to meet on Mardi Gras day to open bids for the beach road repair project. A 30-day extension of a proposed maintenance inspection of state aid roads was requested by board one supervisor Oscar Peterson. A Jan. 27, 1972 letter to the board from B. L. Broome, district engineer for the State Aid Road

Div. stated that a re-inspection on all projects in District three was scheduled for March 22. An annual maintenance inspection report in December 1971 stated that "there is some work that needs doing on nearly every project. No maintenance had been done in District three." The report further stated that "maintenance was good in District two. No evidence of any maintenance done at all in District three."

Peterson said the extension was necessary as the amount of work to be done in beat three couldn't be accomplished in that short a time. He also said he had almost no equipment as well as insufficient funds in his beat Road and Bridge account to finance the work.

Electricians Question License Test Procedure

by Marileen Maher Echo News Editor

A complaint that electricians are not being tested properly in Bay St. Louis was voiced by members of the Hancock County Association of Electrical Contractors at the Bay council meeting Monday morning.

Sonny Bailey, president of the association told the council members that the Bay St. Louis Electrical Board was not functioning and does not meet to issue tests to electricians applying for license. "These tests are being given by Roy Ward and nearly everyone applying passes the test with a high mark," Bailey pointed out.

Ward is the city's electrical inspector. Ward was called into the meeting and asked by Bailey if he (Ward) was issuing the tests without the board's knowledge. Ward denied the statement but admitted that the electrical board does not meet regularly.

Bailey asked council members to meet with the Electrical Contractors Association and with the Electrical Board to work out "obvious problems." Mayor Carver and Commissioners Fyristis and Arceneaux agreed to a meeting but no date was set.

In other action, it was announced that the Department of Housing and Urban Development had approved the extension of Bay Operation Upturn from Feb. 11 to June 30.

Bids were opened for the city's legal advertising. Only one bid from the Sea Coast Echo was submitted at that time. A bid from The Daily Herald had been misplaced by Mayor

Mrs. Giles Teaches 'God's Special Children'

THE CHILD STANDS...EYES BRIGHT WITH YEARNING AND ANTICIPATION. THE WOMAN PLACES HER HANDS GENTLY, FIRMLY BEHIND HIS EARS. "SAY MAMA," SHE URGES. "SAY MAMA."

Seventy-year-old Mrs. Arnette Giles of Pearlinton, Mississippi—is attempting to teach her latest ward, a little boy named Gary, to speak. Gary, it seems, is thought to be deaf and dumb. But Mrs. Giles has reason to believe that his problem stems less from a physical disability than from neglect. For when he was brought to her, Gary, age 5, weighed 21 pounds.

With patience and understanding, Mrs. Giles has raised, along with her own five children, over 40 retarded, abandoned and needy children, helping them to realize their full potential, securing for them all possible advantages within her power.

Today, caring for eleven youngsters, she voices her lifelong philosophy: "Make them feel important. They are, you know, because they are God's special children."

Unwashed herself as a child, shifted from one home to another...Mrs. Giles knows what it's like to be lonely, rejected, unprotected. Concerned and empathetic, she and her husband, the Reverend Giles, have devoted their lives to sparing other children the same kind of agonies.

Through her successes with these youngsters, Mrs. Giles has brought to the attention of the community the special needs and problems of the mentally retarded. Her work has illustrated that these children can be helped and are, indeed, capable of achieving a high level of productivity. One of the Giles' adopted youngsters, for example, originally labeled retarded, possessed obvious musical talent. Through their encouragement, he was able to develop this ability to its fullest.

"He banged on that old piano until he nearly drove us crazy," reminisces Mrs. Giles, "and learned to play every musical instrument he came in contact with." Today, Gary, age 5, is a cheerful, confident child, and Mrs. Giles is proud of his progress.

provides transportation to and from school for several pupils in her own, small car.

Incidentally, despite her continuous desire for education throughout her childhood, Mrs. Giles received only three years of formal schooling. On her own, she studied as much as she could and, at age 68, received her high school equivalency diploma, passing required examinations with distinction.

A parent of two retarded youngsters comments: "I feel that once in a lifetime, someone like Mrs. Giles comes along to give us hope that our children can be helped. What I see in Mrs. Giles is a promise that much can be done in the field of mental retardation when we find people with not only the educational background but with the patience, love and understanding she has for children. She seems to instill in them the confidence they so badly need."

Wanting to give to others what she had received, Mrs. Giles checked into the home for the elderly, where she lived alone, taking food to them whenever she has it to give. She was recently appointed first vice president of Hancock County's model program for the aged, in the words of Warren J. Carver, Mayor of Bay St. Louis, "This program is badly needed here."

due to the large population of low-income, elderly residents. We have been advised that this is a pilot program and as such, will be a showcase for the entire nation. Therefore, we turned to Mrs. Giles for direction.

Some of the community's older citizens require frequent visits to the doctor, but either lack a means of transportation or are too infirm to make the trip on their own. In order that they receive needed medical attention, Mrs. Giles herself provides transportation. Reminding one gentleman to be ready for a forthcoming trip, she cautions: "Remember now, don't you let me down." His reply: "I could never let you down, you're my heart!"

In so many ways, Arnette Giles has been a motivating force within her community, stimulating others to awareness and action, creating concern and understanding through her own example.

And yet, little Gary, who speaks his name, two words, "Mama, Papa," "Look," "But, even more important, he has, at last, learned to smile."

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF HANCOCK COUNTY, MISSISSIPPI, COMMENDING MRS. ARNETTE GILES, OF PEARLINGTON, MISSISSIPPI UPON HAVING BEEN CITED BY THE NATIONAL CENTER FOR VOLUNTARY ACTION FOR HER DEDICATED SERVICE TO "SPECIAL" CHILDREN.

WHEREAS, the Hancock County Welfare Board has brought to the attention of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, the honor bestowed upon Mrs. Arnette Giles, of Pearlinton, Hancock County, Mississippi, as cited in the title of this resolution, and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors upon its own findings and evidence that is a matter of common knowledge in Hancock County, Mississippi, does find and determine that Mrs. Arnette Giles has without remuneration or any other cause other than her love for her fellow human beings rendered invaluable service to the "special" children of this area, and

WHEREAS, her influence in affording love and care for needy children, abandoned and lonely children, shall be long felt, and her influence in the lives of those less fortunate a memorial to her for many years to come, and

WHEREAS, Mrs. Giles, a good citizen of her community, has brought a single honor to Hancock County in having been cited by the National Center for Voluntary Action for many years of dedicated service, and the Board of Supervisors now finds and determines that all citizens of Hancock County should take pride in the achievement of one of their citizens.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County in open meeting do hereby commend Mrs. Arnette Giles for the single honor bestowed upon her as above mentioned, and more especially commend her for her years of Christian service.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Clerk of this Board forward to Mrs. Giles a certified copy of this resolution and release the same to the press.

The motion carried unanimously.

BAY HIGH SCHOOL was broken into Friday night, according to Bay St. Louis Police Chief Robert Goodell, when vandals caused an estimated $500 worth of damage to offices and classrooms. The desk pictured, belonging to Mrs. Frank Lagard, secretary to the principal was found in this condition. Filing cabinets and desks were rifled and contents strewn about as vandals were apparently looking for money, Goodell said. The incident was reported about 8:30 a. m. Saturday morning.

Join Navy Now . . . Go Later

The United States Navy has a program that allows you to join the Navy today and not leave for basic training until up to 180 days later. This is the Navy's Cache Program. During this time you do not wear a uniform but the time counts towards your military obligation. You are also earning seniority for pay purposes. The biggest advantage in this program is that this delay allows you to join the Navy and then have time to get ready to leave.

For information on the Cache Program or on any of the Navy's varied programs contact your local Navy Recruiter, Chief Harold Dew, in Bay St. Louis every Thursday morning at the Selective Service Office, or call 863-1804 in Gulfport.

Receives
Badge

Army Private First Class Philip W. Necaise, 21, son of Mrs. Julian S. Necaise, Lake Shore, Miss., recently received the Combat Infantryman Badge while serving with the 101st Airborne Division (Airmobile) in Vietnam.

The badge is a unique and cherished award that is highly coveted by its recipients. The award was originated during World War II to recognize the role of the infantryman. The C.I.B. can be awarded only to a member of an infantry unit of brigade, regimental or smaller size unit who has satisfactorily performed in active ground combat against a hostile force.

In honor of its singular meaning, the badge is worn above all other awards and decorations, over the left breast. It is a blue rectangle with a silver rifle mounted on it, superimposed over a curved wreath. Subsequent awards are represented by stars at the top center of the wreath.

Pvt. Necaise received the award while assigned as a rifleman in Company D, 2nd Battalion of the Division's 501st Infantry.

His wife, Jeromine, lives in St. Bernard, La.

Scouts Salvage Trip

Boy Scout Troop 208 salvaged camping trip recently through the courtesy of International Paper Co. which lent the company Lodge Sea-Glen at Ansley.

After spending a rainy Friday night on the hardwood floors of the American Legion Home the Troop ventured to proposed camping grounds on the Old Zengarling homestead on Bayou La Croix Rd. Saturday morning, finding this area completely saturated. Arrangements were made through Mr. Julius Ramey to acquire the use of Sea-Glen. Even though tents were pitched with a break in the weather the Troop had to retreat indoors for the night. All was not lost however, as advancements in outdoor cooking and a five-mile hike were accomplished by several Scouts. Twenty-four Scouts made the camp out assisted by four Explorers. Leaders were Watson Johns, Charles Sciana, Warren Buehler, Al Sunny, Ronald Thomas and Felix Seeger.

Krewe Honors 'Queen Of The Streets'

Mrs. Marie Louise Crane, of New Orleans, the former Marie Louise Socola, reigned as the 1972 "Queen of the Streets" Friday night at a gala affair held at the Bon-Ton Cafe in New Orleans.

Prior to the Grand March, the Queen was toasted by the members of her Krewe and other well-wishers at the famed New Orleans restaurant.

The Queen's cape was fashioned in the traditional Mardi Gras colors of purple, green and gold. Her royal scepter was an unusual creation, consisting of a short wooden handle topped with a rounded rubberized material covered with sequins.

Youth Admits To Burglaries

A 17-year-old youth has been arrested by Hancock County Sheriff Sylvan Ladner in connection with more than a dozen burglaries committed in Shoreline Park and near Blue Meadow Road.

The youth was apprehended Tuesday after the sheriff and five law enforcement officers had stalked out the area in which the burglaries had occurred. Ladner said, "We've been investigating this case since Feb. when the Koppis, Tate and John McDonald homes near Blue Meadow Road were broken into."

The next day another home about one mile from Tate's and also on Jordan River was reported burglarized, and a number of articles stolen.

Sheriff's Deputies Fairley Neale, James Ladner, Lathan Garriga, Special Agent Ronald Peterson and Joe Seal, Miss. Water Safety Comm. officer, assisted the sheriff in the three-day stake-out. Tuesday the men found some of the stolen articles hidden in the marsh close to the bayou and acting on other information, went to the youth's home in Shoreline Park.

Under interrogation, the boy admitted to committing between 12 and 14 burglaries, 10 of which were in Shoreline Park homes. He took the authorities to several locations in a widely scattered area where he had hidden other stolen articles.

Tourism Group Discusses Hospitality Center Site

An alternate site for the proposed hospitality center on Interstate-10 was discussed at Tuesday night's meeting of the Tourism Action Committee.

The committee is attempting to have the center built between the Pearl River bridge and the Highway 607 exit, near the present weigh stations. The State Highway Department announced last year that the center would be built approximately three miles west of Highway 603.

Talmadge Rayborn, president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, said that the alternate site would be just beyond the Mississippi-Louisiana line (traveling east) and this would afford visitors a chance to choose Highway 90 as an alternate or scenic route to Mobile instead of I-10. Rayborn also said that he thought it might be possible to have the site changed.

When asked if NASA would approve the alternate site, which is located in the MTF buffer zone, a representative from NASA, Dave Johnson, told the group that the agency had given approval to the other site, also in the buffer zone and he felt that there would be no problem.

The committee plans a Highway 90 beautification project under the direction of Mrs. William Hilliker, Mrs. Carol Vegas, Mrs. Betty Benvenuti and Mrs. H. L. Robinson. The four women were responsible for the National Cleanup Award recently given to the city of Bay St. Louis.

Tommy Kidd, committee chairman, reported that State Representative Earl "Buck" Ladner and State Senator Martin Smith had met with Shag Pyron, Southern District highway commissioner. Ladner reported by phone that Pyron had promised full cooperation. Cecil Dubuisson, vice-president of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, announced that the chamber would like to host the meeting at the Long Beach Ramada Inn. The offer was accepted and the next meeting was set for February 22 at 8 p. m.

Tourism Action Committee Objectives

- The primary purpose of this committee is to maintain the tourist flow onto Highway 90 from the 607 entrance until I-10 is completed all across the State of Mississippi.
- A. We do not want to attempt to halt construction of I-10, rather work with State officials. However, we do want to keep our Golden Gulf Coast alive.
- B. By using the 607 entrance - a four-lane divided highway - tourist traffic could flow swiftly across the coast; present business establishments would get their usual trade, and no major traffic bottlenecks will be created. Highway 603 is a narrow two lane country road; Highway 49 is already a detriment in many respects and to dump off another 20,000 or so cars per day onto it would be a catastrophe not only to the 49 business district, but to the entire coastal area west of Highway 40.
- C. The vast majority of businesses throughout the Gulf Coast have large SBA loans to repay as a result of damage from Camille. We have had only two years toward rebuilding and possibly just two more before I-10 is opened all the way to 49. At that time if all traffic is routed onto I-10 to 49, all of Hancock County and a large portion of Harrison will die.
- D. The site presently selected for the Hospitality Booth is between 607 and 603, miles inside the State of Mississippi. It is our understanding that this site was chosen because the Federal Highway Commission felt there was no suitable location southwest of the 607 entrance - the present and only entrance to the Gulf Coast. The truck scales, however, were built in the buffer zone of NASA - why not place the Hospitality Booth in the same general area? We also understand that funding has not yet been provided for construction of these booths. So why can't the site be changed and give this half of the gulf coast a chance to go on living for a few years at least.

E. Most important of all - WE ARE NOT SAYING CLOSE UP I-10 TO HWY. 49. We are saying - ALLOW ANY AND ALL LOCAL AREA RESIDENTS TO USE IT. WE JUST WANT THE TOURIST WHO DO NOT KNOW THIS AREA, WHO STAY IN MOTELS, EAT IN RESTAURANTS, BUY GASOLINE, SOUVENIRS, ETC., TO COME OFF ON HWY 607. A VERY LARGE PORTION OF DOLLARS SPENT BY THESE TOURISTS ARE THE DOLLARS THAT KEEP HANCOCK, HARRISON AND JACKSON COUNTIES ALIVE.

F. We have heard rumors from Diamondhead about our actions. We want all people going to Diamondhead to use I-10; people from Gulfport going to New Orleans to use I-10, etc. Diamondhead is not interested in tourist trade since it is closed to members only.

Two Queen Candidates Prepare For O.L.G. Ball

The 39th Annual Carnival Ball will be held this Friday at 9 p. m. at St. Joseph Memorial Hall in Bay St. Louis.

In 1933 the St. Joseph's Mother's Club organized the ball as a fund raising project. In 1947 the business and professional men who had administered the many facets of organizing the ball were granted a charter of incorporation. The funds derived from the ball now benefit Our Lady of the Gulf Parent's Club since St. Joseph was closed after 112 years. Members of the parents club now also handle the major portion of the many arrangements necessary for staging such a ball.

For the past two years the queen has been one of two candidates who are in competition to raise money for Our Lady of the Gulf school. The candidate with the largest sum of money raised by the end of the campaign will reign over the ball with the runner up being Grand Duchess.

While it is known who the two candidates for queen are, the identity of the king is a secret until the night of the ball. At 9 p. m. the curtain of the stage will be opened and His Majesty will await the arrival of the queen from his royal throne.

This year's candidates for queen are Mrs. Valerie Marengo and Mrs. Laurie Kiefer Byrd. By coincidence, in 1958, the silver anniversary, Mrs. Byrd's mother was executive chairman of the ball and Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Marengo were members of the court. Mr. Hugh Kiefer, brother of Mrs. Byrd, was also a member of the court that year.

Accclaimed as one of the finest social events of the year in Bay St. Louis, the ball is open to the public with dancing following the Grand March. No one will be admitted to the ball without tickets.

At this writing, as in the past, few details concerning the elaborate decorations and setting are available.

Winchester To Head Buoy Center

The appointment of James W. Winchester, 55, of Santa Barbara, Calif., as Director of the National Data Buoy Center was announced today by the Commerce Department's National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

The Center, which operates within NOAA's National Ocean Survey, is developing a national system of ocean buoys for recording and reporting oceanographic and meteorological data. Its headquarters and technical facilities are in Bay St. Louis, Miss.

For the past five years, the new director has been vice president and general manager of Oceanographic Services, Inc., of Santa Barbara, which specializes in studies and at-sea surveys in the marine sciences for government and industry.

Prior to that, Winchester was employed for 10 years by the Office of Naval Research in Washington, D.C., the last four years as head of ONR's Field Projects Branch.

The National Data Buoy Center is engaged in developing a national ocean buoy system for automatically obtaining and disseminating oceanic and atmospheric data for use by marine scientists, meteorologists and industry involved in operations at sea. Its work includes development of buoy hulls, instrumentation, ships for installation and maintenance of buoys, communication systems for dissemination of data, and data quality control procedures.

The data buoy program grew out of studies in 1966 by the Interagency Committee on Oceanography. Subsequently, the National Council for Marine Resources and Engineering Development recommended that buoy networks be established in the deep ocean, coastal waters, bays, estuaries, and the Great Lakes as an essential part of an overall environmental information and prediction system to monitor and predict the global environment. In 1967, the Coast Guard established a National Data Buoy Development Project to achieve this purpose. Upon the formation of NOAA in 1970, the buoy projects was transferred to the new organization and renamed the National Data Buoy Center.

Winchester succeeds Coast Guard Cdr. Peter A. Morrill, who has been serving as Acting Director. He will report to Associate Director of Marine Technology William Nicholson at the National Ocean Survey's Rockville, Md., headquarters.

Winchester is a native of Central, S.C. He was graduated from Fanning County High School (1933) and attended Furman University in Greenville, S.C. (1935-38). He holds a master's degree in physical oceanography from Johns Hopkins University (1956) and an M.A. in public administration from American University (1966).

Just prior to World War II, Winchester was selected by the Navy for training in meteorology and served on active duty during the war as an aerologist. He was recalled to active duty during the Korean conflict as a meteorologist and oceanographer.

Winchester is a member of the Marine Technology Society, American Meteorological Society, and American Geographical Union.

Your Public Schools

This week's article is the third in a series of articles dealing with the principals in our public school system. The following was researched and written by a Bay Senior High student, Kathy Pollion.

Robert Magee graduated from the University of Southern Mississippi in 1959, where he received his B.S. degree in science. From there he attended the University of Mississippi where he received his Master's degree in 1962. In 1968 he also did additional graduate work at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Mr. Magee's main reason for becoming a principal is to try to help give opportunities to young people which he did not have when he was young. He has taught school for sixteen years and during this time has been an elementary, junior high, and now, a senior high principal.

As for the opportunities in education that students have today, Mr. Magee thinks that students today have a much broader curriculum, better qualified teachers, and an excess to such things as visual aids. The Home Economics and Lab rooms are equipped with up-to-date equipment and are very efficient in helping students learn.

Mr. Magee said that the land which has been cleared off behind the school is going to be used as an athletic field to practice football, band marching, and physical education. It will be a full-size practice field.

Mr. Magee has proven to be both an efficient and cooperative principal whom all the students respect deeply. Thanks to his leadership there have been no major problems at Bay Senior High, and even the small problems can be easily overcome.

TENNIS COURTS

The Bay High Tennis courts, scene of considerable vandalism lately, are currently undergoing much-needed improvements through the efforts of the Bay High Tennis Club. Club members are busy at present repairing the nets; new cables and new ribbons are being added to the nets, as well as some much-needed patchwork. Denise Parsons, president of the club, states that future plans call for removing grass from the edges of the courts, cleaning of the courts, and installing new signs to replace those recently destroyed by vandals.

By L.S. (Doc) Elliott Seasons come and go each year. One of the most popular is Carnival (Mardi Gras) which ends Tuesday, next week, in New Orleans after a little bad weather but for the most part it has been pretty good except for some cold weather for the past week.
Not only New Orleans celebrates Carnival. Outlying cities in the states of Louisiana and Mississippi have their parades and balls.
Waveland had its "Three
Ring Circus Parade "Nereids"
Sunday, sponsored by the Civic Association of that city with King Nereus VI, Haskell L.
Doyle and queen Doris VI
reigning over the festivities.
The parade route was lined with thousands of cars. A large attendance was on hand to see the parade. All in all it was a happy day for thousands of folks of Waveland and surrounding communities. Wayne Mack sports announcer for WDSU-TV, served as Grand Marshall
in the parade.
Hunting seasons will close in February. Better off the old Blunder Bus and put it away
until next year's seasons.
Had my first rabbit this week.
Mighty good after being smothered down in dark gray.
Rabbit hunting according to those going after them wasn't too hot this year. A lot of the bushy tails were killed by hurricane Camille but they are coming back strong. Hunting should be better next season.
Capt. Han Hansen now of Clermont Harbor, a retired
captain, is a friend of Ike Lang.
Capt. Hansen Higgins was building mine sweepers and tugs had the job of delivering the boats to their destination, anywhere. Was interesting to hear the Captain relate some of his experiences during his sea travels.
Mike Hoke captain of the "Herring" yacht. The "Herring" like others, predicts there will be no use going fishing until the weather settles off. Ike takes out fishing parties regularly when things are right. Ike is an old timer when it comes to knowing the fishing grounds
hereabout.
Johnny Legendre and Bill Karl are fishing partners. They do a lot of their favorite sport.
They do both hunting and fishing. Are friends of our outstanding fly fisherman, Hoke Ogden. Hoke is also laying off fishing until it gets right.
Al Leddy has a home in Waveland. He is a new comer and expects to do both hunting and fishing hereabout. Al is another old timer at both sports.
Dennis Call enjoys his bass fishing. He does mostly casting when after those game fish.
Catches bigger ones, he claims.
Was interesting talking to Bill Johnston who is now in New Jersey and was here for a few days recently. Enjoyed receiving write ups from his friends, who I only know as Wall and Freddie, regarding fishing in that neck of the woods. We have mighty good fishing, soft crabbing and flounder fishing on the Gulf Coast. Our most popular fish are speckle trout,
red fish and other salt water fish, plus fresh water fish, both bass and perch which are caught the year round. A trip to this section of the U. S. will convince you. Thanks for the papers.
Enjoyed reading an article by "Heck" sports writer on Friday, Feb. 4th in the States
Item, entitled "Natural Reefs Farwell", pertaining to the removal of natural shell reefs which are an asset to fishing in Miss. and Louisiana in the Gulf of Mexico. Heck says to remove a natural reef is to get off a chain reaction whereby a spot

SPORTSMAN OF THE WEEK

New Orleans who visits friends in Waveland. John is an ardent fisherman. Goes on every occasion. Enjoys any kind of fishing and usually brings home some of the finny tribe.

will no longer be good for fishing. Think he's got something. Get a copy of the States-Item of the above date.
It's well worth reading by those who like fishing.

M. F. Cass returned to his home in Hattiesburg Monday
after a couple of days of bad fishing. Come back soon, M. F.
when conditions are better.
There is still some fish
hereabout.

A new addition to Bay St.
Louis opened on Monday. It is a new restaurant and lounge on Railroad Avenue, Cheris.

Wallace-Murray Buys
Rittner Enameling
Rittner Industrial Enameling
Inc., with its principal operations here in Bay St. Louis, has been acquired by Wallace-Murray. The acquisition was announced Monday by H. Haach, president of Wallace-
Murray and Lloyd J. Rittner, president of Rittner Industrial Enameling.
Rittner, a manufacturer of architectural porcelain, insulated panels and prefabricated buildings, was acquired for an undisclosed amount of Wallace-Murray
stock.
Wallace-Murray is a diversified manufacturer of building products, cutting tools and power components with sales of approximately $215,000,000, and 30 plants in the U.S., Canada and overseas and approximately 9,000 employees.
Rittner, which employs approximately 150 people in the area and has 87 distributors nationwide, will become a part of Wallace-Murray's Building Products Group which accounts for 40 per cent of the Corporation's volume.
Lloyd J. Rittner, president, who will continue with Wallace-Murray as a consultant, expressed pleasure at having Rittner Industrial Enameling
join Wallace-Murray. "They are a growing, dynamic organization. Our operations dovetail very nicely with theirs and the opportunities for the growth of our operations in Bay St. Louis are a result of the acquisition," he said.
Mr. Haach expressed equal pleasure with the new acquisition. "Rittner has a fine name, an excellent facility in Bay St. Louis, and a fine group of people working for the Company. We think we are fortunate to have them join the Corporation."
Rittner was founded in 1962.
Its porcelain products have been used all over the world. In addition to pre-fabricated porcelain buildings, such as service stations, drive-in restaurants and car washes, it makes curtain walls and is in the sanitary plumbing business.
One of its latest jobs is the elementary school in Waveland, Mississippi which is an all porcelain, pre-fabricated school structure, the first of its kind in the south.
Wallace-Murray's Building Products Group includes the Eljer Plumbingware Division,
the nation's only full-line
supplier of plumbing fixtures;
the Lawton-Scharf Division, a distributor of plumbing supplies and building components for the mobile home industry; the William Wallace Division, a manufacturer of gas vent
systems, chimneys and sheet metal products; and the Dry Division which makes registers, grills, and diffusers for heating
and air-conditioning.

owned and operated by Doris and Jack Seuzeneau. It is new with a round table specializing in steaks and lobsters as specialties. There will be regular foods, crabs, softcrabs, flounders, and all kinds of fish in season. Even though it is a beautiful place, fishermen seeking sandwiches, dinners or what have you will have a place to satisfy their eating wants.
Later a lounge will be added for those who wish soft or hard drinks. Doris and Jack should be complimented on their new undertaking. Go to Cher's, it's a place where friends meet and enjoy a pleasant treat.

Most fishermen when asked about fishing, right now, say, it's no good. Tides, bad water and the tides are the cause.
There will be better days.

One couple took a couple of Nuns fishing who caught only angel fish. If you don't know what angel fish are, they resemble sheephead. Quite a few are caught here about, according to Charley Frest, an old time salt water fisherman.
You don't have to be a nun to catch 'em.

Did you hear that life is an everlasting struggle to keep money coming in and teeth and hair from coming out.

A fisherman is a guy that mildews when he stays home
and can't go fishing.

Our Sportsman of the week
don't have to be a hunter or fisherman. He can play golf, sail boats, catch soft crabs or flounders. Let us have your photo. Even a bartender can take a good picture and still be a real sport. How about that Sam?

Most anyone can catch a fish
provided they have the right bait. Fish are not stupid. They know what they want.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO BORROW FUNDS

There also came on to be considered the matter of borrowing $45,000.00 in anticipation of taxes as authorized by Section 2925-13 of the Mississippi Code of 1942 as amended by Section 2 of Chapter 479, Laws of 1971, whereupon Supervisor Travira moved the adoption of the following resolution:

WHEREAS, Hancock County does not have on hand sufficient funds in the General Fund of the County necessary for the purpose of defraying the current expenses of the County chargeable to General Fund revenues; and

WHEREAS, there is currently a deficit in said General Fund in the amount of $48,888.27 and it is necessary and in the best interest of the County that funds be borrowed in anticipation of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levies for the General Fund of said County; and

WHEREAS, the total estimated assessed valuation of all ad valorem property of said County for the year 1971 is in the amount of $28,631,690.00, and WHEREAS, the total millage of said County for General Fund purposes is 7 mills; and therefore, the estimated amount of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levy or levies for General Fund purposes is in the sum of $186,421.83; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors does now find and determine that there may be borrowed for General Fund purposes under Section 2928-13 of the Mississippi Code of 1942 as last amended by Section 3, Chapter 479, Laws of 1971, the amount of $45,000.00, a sum not in excess of twenty-five percent of the estimated amount of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levy for General Fund purposes; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors is authorized and empowered and does now find and determine that it is necessary to borrow the sum of $45,000.00 for the purpose of defraying the General Fund expenses of said County; and

WHEREAS, the sum of $45,000.00 so borrowed shall not be in excess of twenty-five percent (25%) of the estimated amount of taxes collected and to be collected under the last preceding annual tax levies of the General Fund of said County, the fund for which said money is borrowed; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Supervisors does now find and determine that it is not necessary to pledge the levy of a special tax in order to repay the amount of the money borrowed for the use of the General Fund of the County but does now find and determine that the regular levy will be sufficient for the repayment of said loan with interest and that there should be pledged out of the first money collected from taxes for General Fund purposes for the year in which said notes are issued the amount of $45,000.00 for the purpose of repayment of said notes.
